DO NOT BE CONFORMED TO
THIS WORLD, BUT BE TRANSFORMED BY THE RENEWING OF
YOUR MIND, SO THAT YOU MAY PROVE
WHAT THE WILL
OF GOD IS, THAT WHICH IS GOOD AND ACCEPTABLE, AND PERFECT.

Paul the Apostle

Wendolyne C. Buckner has over two decades of experience helping leaders shift paradigms and mindsets to facilitate change within organizations and individual lives – with extraordinary results. With his support, his clients reach new levels of achievement, satisfaction, happiness, and personal freedom in their lives.

As a coach, he draws on an extensive background in and knowledge of human dynamics, project management, leadership development, and high-performing teams. Throughout his career, Wendol has been a trusted advisor in many different organizations, including banks, CPA Firms, a commercial contractor, and a Fortune 500 technology company. His roles have included VP of Cultural Awareness for a corporate DEI initiative.

Wendol has taken on extensive volunteer responsibilities as well, serving as a nonprofit board member, church financial secretary, ministry chairman, deacon, and Sunday School facilitator. He has been an executive board member and treasurer within the International Coaching Federation's Maryland Chapter. He leverages all these unique experiences – educational, professional, spiritual, and personal – to inform his coaching and support his clients.

Wendol is a Professional Certified Coach through the International Coaching Federation. After graduating from the Detroit public school system, he earned a BA in Accounting at Morehouse College in Atlanta, Georgia. He then began a career in accounting and later transitioned to the fields of Information Technology Service Management (ITSM) and Leadership Development.

In addition to his professional role as an Executive Coach, Wendol is a happy husband of more than twenty years and a proud father of two amazing teenagers. He currently makes his home in Suffolk, Virginia.
